

rerun
m: fatima spar, miloš todorovski w: fatima spar

there they wrote while you spoke you took note they observe your progress preprogrammed process rerun' reload

it is for certain' systematized instrumentalized 'what doesn't run right?' the great solution maybe would be leave it as it used to be your frame of mind will improve. alright! you will get paralyzed it's that with happy pills you feel nothing at all is this what i was looking for?

without any results' well done after a million times rerun it kept flurrying on my tongue even a hale and hearty gets ill and down

it kept flurrying on my tongue
i need a flat' a hat' possibly a cat could you manage that?

there is no need to confess your weakness there is no need to digest it all i made up my mind not for cars' not for stars but for me' i feel good in myself

this is ridiculous!
it's all taken too serious is that all there is to recognize? there are ups and downs in one woman's life even if it's getting strained you can always find new aims
